Dear Parents/Carers,

Can I just begin my letter by thanking you all for your support during this last half term! I think that it has been difficult for all of us but we will continue to rise to the challenges that this situation brings us if we continue to work together. This week has been particularly trying with the laptop issues that we have had in school and teachers have been frustrated that the quality of their lessons have not been as they would wish. We are hopeful that the technical issues will be fully sorted over half term.

Remote Learning Survey Feedback

Thank you to all of you that attended the Microsoft Live event last night and I hope that some of you will catch up with this later on. I will be posting some further summary information to all parents in due course in case you were unable to access the meeting. Whilst I get the feeling that the remote learning is going well, we will all be much happier when the children can return to school-fingers crossed that this is not too far away.

Track and Trace

As mentioned last week we have been asked by the government to continue to support their track and trace processes over the holiday and if your child has attended school as part of the emergency care provision, you will have been sent information yesterday via email on what you need to do should your child contract the virus over the next few days.

Finally, I hope that you all have a lovely half term and that you have some time to relax with your families without the pressures of home schooling. Allow yourselves the time to congratulate yourself in all that you have achieved and don't be too critical of yourself if you have not managed to do everything the way that you would have wanted.

Yours sincerely,

Miss JK Tomlinson
